

On varieties of homomorphisms

Ondrej Klima

Masaryk University, Brno

Czech Republic

The notion of pseudovarieties of homomorphisms onto finite monoids was introduced by Straubing and their equational description was consecutively developed by Kunc. In this talk we resume a work of Polak concerning varieties and pseudovarieties of homomorphisms onto algebras of an arbitrary type.